

"Through obedience
to gospel principles, the enticements of the world lessen in our lives.

With each right choice we make, we spiritually empower ourselves.

The accumulation of right choices builds inner spiritual strength and divine character.

We should expect temptation, for without temptations there would be little education and little character improvement."