

“We are too prone to accept the activities in which we engage as accomplishments of our own, not giving the slightest amount of credit to the One who blessed us with health, strength, opportunities, inspiration, and the ability to achieve.

We feel that we individually made the accomplishment through our own superior brain power or physical strength.
What conceited fools we mortals are!”

Milton R. Hunter, "God's Greatest Gift," BYU Devotional
