

"Provisional morality always emerges once people desert a basic truth.
Such individuals are forever falling back, trying to develop substitute rationales, drawing new lines beyond which they vow they will not be driven, only to abandon these also under the pressure of growing evils."

-Neal A. Maxwell-