

"Happiness

consists not of having,
but of being;
not of possessing,
but of enjoying.

It is the warm glow
of a heart
at peace with itself."

William George Jordan The Majesty of Calmness, 1900, p. 54

Quoted by President David O. McKay, CR Oct. 1955, p. 8

Quoted by Mary Ellen Edmunds, Speeches 1995-96, p. 88