

Ours is the blessing
to live in a better season.
The terrible persecutions of the past
are behind us.
Today we are looked upon
with respect
by people across the world.
We must always be worthy of that respect.
We must earn it,
or we will not have it.

President Gordon B. Hinckley
October 1996 General Conference